Brilliant Musicale.

Brilliant Musicale.

A specially brilliant audience attended the musicale given yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club, the large number of out-of-town guests marking the unusual interest of the ceasion.

The exceptionally well-prepared program was carried out by the following artists: Mrs. Clifton M. Miler, soprano; Miss Jean Foss, of Boston, contralto; Miss Jean Foss, of Boston, contralto; Miss Zelle Minor planist; Mr. Shepherd Webb, accompanist.

Miss Foss's rich, deep contraito made a perfect foil for Mrs. Miller's soprano, which is so heartly appreciated by the Richmond public; and both singers responded gracefully to the encore demanded by the appreciative audience. Miss Zelle Minor'was' it her best, and her usual faultless technique and expression likewise won her a hearty encore. Mr. Shepherd Webb, as accompanist, was thoroughly in sympathy with the singers, and added much to the effect of their several numbers.

The program was as follows:

1. Plano-(a) Love Song (Porter), "Ah love me, love me, so that to die would be to live forever-Armelle Rives; (b) Gavotte, & minor (Slias).

2. Soprano—(a) "Where Be Going" (Oid Consish melody, arranged by Som-

2. Soprano—(a) "Where Be Going" (Old Cornish melody, arranged by Somerville); (b) "The Little Thief" (Leo Stern); "Necklace of Love" (Nevin).
3. Contralto—The Land of Roses," "The Siave Song," (Del Rigo); "Beloved, It Is Morn" (Florence Aylward).
4. Plano—Rhapsodie Hongrolse, No. 8 (Lisz)

5. Soprano-"Si Saran Rose" (Arditi). 6. Contraito—(a) "Gypsy Trail" (Todd Galloway); (b) "In Haven" (Elger); (c) "Pilgrims' Song" (Tschallkowsky). Encores-"Irish Love Song" (Lang Mrs. Miller: "Mon Desu" (Nevin), Mis "Spring Song" (Gounod), Miss

The Wilderness

By EDWIN ARLINCTON ROBINSON.

Other selections from this author have already appeared in this series.
Of these poems President Rossevelt said: "There is an undoubted touch of genius in the poems collected in this volume, and a curious simplicity and good faith, all of which qualities differentiate them sharply from ordinary collections of the kind. Mr. Robinson has written in this little volume not verse, but poetry."

Come away! come away! there's a frost along the marshes, And a frozen wind that skims the shoal where it shakes the dead black

There's a moan across the lowland and a wailing through the wood-

Of a dirge that sings to send us back to the arms of those that love us. There is nothing left but ashes now where the crimson chills of autumn Put off the summer's languor with a touch that made us glad For the glory that is gone from us, with a flight we cannot follow, To the slopes of other valleys and the sounds of other shores.

Come away! come away! you can hear them calling, calling, Calling us to come to them, and roam no more. Over there beyond the ridges and the land that lies between us, There's an old song calling us to come!

Come away! come away!---for the scenes we leave behind us Are barren for the lights of home and a flame that's young forever; And the lonely trees around us creak the warning of the night-wind, That love and all the dreams of love are away beyond the mountains. The songs that call for us to-night, they have called for men before us, And the winds that blow the message, they have flown ten thousand years; But this will end our wander-time, for we know the joy that waits us

In the strangeness of home-coming, and a faithful woman's eyes.

Come away! come away! there is nothing now to cheer us-Nothing now to comfort us, but love's road home:—
Over there beyond the darkness there's a window gleams to greet us, And a warm hearth waits for us within.

Come away! come away!—or the roving-flend will hold us, And make us all to dwell with him to the end of human faring: There are no men yet can leave him when his hands are clutched upon them,

There are none will own his enmity, there are none will call him So we'll be up and on the way, and the less we brag the better

For the freedom that God gave us and the dread we do not know:— The frost that skips the willow-leap will again be back to blight it, And the doom we cannot fly from is the doom we do not see

Come away! come away! there are dead men all around us-Frozen men that mock us with a wild, hard laugh That shrieks and sinks and whimpers in the shrill November rushes, And the long fall wind on the lake.
